Declaration of Non-Medical Device Status

MindTalk: Mental Wellness is a general-purpose emotional wellness app. It is NOT a medical device and does NOT require regulatory clearance under FDA, CE, or equivalent frameworks.

The app does NOT:

- Diagnose any medical or mental health condition
- Prescribe or recommend medical treatments
- Replace professional medical or psychiatric care
- Collect or analyze clinical health measurements

The app DOES:

- Provide AI-based conversational wellness coaching for emotional support
- Enable personal mood journaling and self-reflection
- Offer guided breathing exercises for relaxation
- Display personal mood tracking statistics entered by the user

All content is for general wellness purposes only.

Users are advised to consult licensed healthcare professionals for medical concerns.

This app is equivalent in nature to a wellness journal or mindfulness app.

This statement is provided to Apple App Review to confirm that MindTalk does not require medical device regulatory approval in any jurisdiction.
